

Nirvana is where you find it. Walking the path leads the way.
Still prisoner to my obsessions. Enlightenment comes only after the darkest night. Real truth is the lie, the jewel of a blind man's eye.

Oceans of time separate realities, grains of sand fill the mind.
Electronic beams fill the sky with nothing more than days gone by. The sounds of silence fill the air, while visions of the past blow through my hair.

Each day of knowing leaves one dumb, perceiving the future makes me numb. Watching sunrise, seeing sunset, wondering the mind with nothing to forget. The fear that surrounds me, leaves me howling in the clear.
Levels of anxiety become devils transformed by deities.

disasterous, disconcerted, disconnected, discontented, discriminated, disfunctioned, disheveled, disintegrated, dislocated, disorganized, dispersed, dispelled, dispensed, displaced, disposed, dispossessed, diserved, dissociable, dissonant, distanced, distempered, disruptive, disturbed, disunioned.

The mind about to implode, and leaves little effect except not growing old. Shivering in the night, out in the cold.
